

BLAMO CLOSING

Automotive sales training

Prospecting Like a Professional

How New Automotive Sales Professionals
Can Build Their Brand & Sell More Cars

Close with Clarity—Not Pressure

How New Automotive Sales Professionals Can Build Their Brand & Sell More Cars

Purpose

This guide gives you a simple, repeatable system for building your personal brand and turning everyday contacts into customers and referrals. It is written for new automotive sales professionals who want to grow their business the professional way—with clarity, not pressure.

How to use this guide

Read one chapter a day before your shift. Rehearse the scripts out loud until they sound like you. Fill in your 100-person list, post daily, and track your numbers on the Prospecting Scorecard. The habits are simple; the consistency is what compounds.

Table of Contents

- ☐ Why Prospecting Matters
- ☐ Becoming the Local Car Expert
- ☐ Build Your Personal Brand
- ☐ Your First 100 Contacts
- ☐ Let Everyone Know
- ☐ Daily Social Media Strategy
- ☐ Community Prospecting
- ☐ Ask for Referrals
- ☐ Prospecting Scripts
- ☐ Your Daily Prospecting Plan

Close with Clarity—Not Pressure

CHAPTER 1

Why Prospecting Matters

You Don't Wait for Customers... You Create Opportunities.

The top salespeople in every dealership don't rely solely on walk-in traffic. They build relationships before customers ever need a vehicle.

The Blamo Philosophy

Every person you meet is either:

- ☐ A future customer
- ☐ A referral source
- ☐ Someone who knows your next customer

Your goal isn't to sell everyone a car today.

Your goal is to become the first person they think of when they need one.

COACH'S CORNER

People buy from people they know, like, and trust. Trust is built long before someone steps into a dealership.

CHAPTER 2

Becoming the Local Car Expert

Stop telling people... “I’m selling cars.”

Start saying... “I’m an Automotive Product Specialist. My job is helping people find the right vehicle while making the buying process simple, transparent, and enjoyable.”

See the difference?

One sounds like a job. The other sounds like a profession.

YOUR PERSONAL MISSION STATEMENT

“I help families and individuals make confident vehicle-buying decisions by providing honest advice, product knowledge, and a pressure-free experience.”

Why it works

When you introduce yourself as a professional, you change the conversation. Customers stop bracing for a pitch and start expecting help. That one shift in language changes how you see yourself—and how they see you.

CHAPTER 3

Build Your Personal Brand

People aren't buying from your dealership... They're buying YOU.

Your Brand Should Say:

- ✓ Honest
- ✓ Helpful
- ✓ Professional
- ✓ Responsive
- ✓ Knowledgeable
- ✓ Community Focused

Social Media Profile

Update your Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, and TikTok.

EXAMPLE BIO

Automotive Product Specialist

- Helping people buy with confidence
- (Dealership Name)
- Call/Text Anytime
- www.BlamoClosing.com

Professional Headshot

Use:

- ✓ A polo or dress shirt with dealership branding
- ✓ A clean, welcoming smile
- ✓ A vehicle or dealership background
- ✓ Consistent branding across all platforms

Coach's Tip

Your profiles are your first impression. Make every platform look like the same professional—same photo, same bio, same promise.

CHAPTER 4

Your First 100 Contacts

Make a List

Write down everyone you know:

Family, Friends, Neighbors, Church members, Gym friends, Former coworkers, Teachers, Coaches, Parents from school, Local business owners, Sports teammates, Barber or stylist, Dentist, Doctor, Mechanic

Goal: 100 Names

Don't judge whether they're buying now. You're planting seeds.

COACH'S CORNER

Start with the people who already know you. They are your warmest leads, your easiest referrals, and your first supporters. This list is the foundation of everything else in this guide.

How to build the list

- ☐ Open your phone contacts and scroll—name every person you recognize.
- ☐ Walk through each part of your life: family, school, work, gym, church, sports, neighborhood.
- ☐ Write the names down—don't keep them in your head.
- ☐ Aim for 10 names a day until you reach 100.

CHAPTER 5

Let Everyone Know

Don't be shy. Be proud.

The moment you announce your new career, people start thinking of you when car conversations come up. You are not asking for favors—you are telling people how to reach you when they need help.

SAMPLE ANNOUNCEMENT

Exciting News!

I've officially started my career as an Automotive Product Specialist!

If you or someone you know is shopping for a vehicle, I'd love the opportunity to help.

My goal isn't just selling vehicles—it's creating a great experience from start to finish.

Even if you only have questions, I'm happy to help.

Thank you for supporting me on this new journey!

Where to post it

- ☐ Facebook and Instagram stories
- ☐ LinkedIn
- ☐ TikTok
- ☐ Group chats with family and friends

Coach's Tip

People can't support your business if they don't know you're in business.

CHAPTER 6

Daily Social Media Strategy

One post a day keeps you top of mind. Use this weekly rhythm so you never wonder what to post.

Day	Content
Monday	New inventory spotlight
Tuesday	Helpful buying tip
Wednesday	Customer delivery (with permission)
Thursday	Vehicle feature demonstration
Friday	Weekend specials
Saturday	Behind-the-scenes at the dealership
Sunday	Personal post (Family, Dogs, Sports, Hobbies, Community)

People connect with people—not advertisements.

Keep your posts simple and real. You don't need production quality—you need consistency and a genuine voice. Reply to every comment and message the same day.

CHAPTER 7

Community Prospecting

Become visible. Visit:

- ✓ Local coffee shops
- ✓ Chamber of Commerce events
- ✓ Youth sports
- ✓ Charity events
- ✓ Festivals
- ✓ Community fairs
- ✓ Business networking groups
- ✓ Local restaurants

The goal is to be seen

Every place you show up is a place people learn your name. You're not selling at these events—you're becoming the person people think of when a car question comes up.

CONVERSATION STARTER

"I'm with (Dealership Name). If you ever need vehicle advice—or know someone who does—I'd love to help."

Simple. Professional. No pressure.

Coach's Tip

Carry business cards. Ask questions and listen more than you talk. Follow up with the people you meet within 24 hours.

CHAPTER 8

Ask for Referrals

Never end a sale without asking.

Most customers are happy to refer you—they just need to be asked. Make it easy, specific, and personal.

EXAMPLE

“If you enjoyed working with me, I’d really appreciate you keeping me in mind if a friend, coworker, or family member needs help buying a vehicle.”

Referral Formula

Great Experience	Follow-Up	Review	Referral	Repeat Customer
------------------	-----------	--------	----------	-----------------

Great Experience → Follow-Up → Review → Referral → Repeat Customer

How to build the loop

- ☐ Deliver a great experience on every sale.
- ☐ Follow up after delivery—check in, don’t just sell.
- ☐ Ask every customer for a review.
- ☐ Ask for referrals by name and situation.
- ☐ Serve each referral like a repeat customer.

CHAPTER 9

Prospecting Scripts

Use these word-for-word. Then make them sound like you.

TEXT MESSAGE

“Hi! I wanted to let you know I’ve started my career as an Automotive Product Specialist. If you or anyone you know is thinking about buying, trading, or just has questions, I’d love the opportunity to help. Thanks for your support!”

Post it on your social accountsFACEBOOK POST

Big News!

I’m excited to announce that I’ve joined the team at (Dealership)!

Helping people find the right vehicle is something I’m passionate about, and I’d appreciate your support.

If you’re shopping—or know someone who is—please think of me.

Thank you!

When you catch up with contacts, use thisPHONE CALL

“Hey, I just wanted to let you know I’ve started selling vehicles. I’m reaching out because I’d love to earn your business whenever the time comes—or help anyone you know who’s looking.”

Script tips

- ☐ Keep it short and genuine—people can hear a script.
- ☐ Never push. You are planting a seed, not closing a deal.
- ☐ End every conversation by asking if anyone they know is looking.

CHAPTER 10

Your Daily Prospecting Plan

Every Day:

- ☐ Make 10 phone calls
- ☐ Send 10 text messages
- ☐ Add 5 new contacts
- ☐ Post once on social media
- ☐ Respond to every message
- ☐ Meet 3 new people
- ☐ Ask for 2 referrals
- ☐ Follow up with previous customers

Prospecting Scorecard

Track your numbers every day. What gets measured gets done.

Activity	Daily Goal
Calls	10
Texts	10
Social Posts	1
New Contacts	5
Referrals Requested	2
Follow-Ups	10
Reviews Requested	1

The 30-Day Challenge

Four weeks to a professional prospecting habit. Follow it in order and keep your scorecard current every day.

WEEK 1	Create your professional profiles. Build your first 100-contact list. Make your announcement post.
WEEK 2	Contact everyone on your list. Post daily. Attend one community event.
WEEK 3	Ask every customer for a review. Ask every customer for referrals. Grow your network by 25 new contacts.
WEEK 4	Review your results. Celebrate your wins. Refine your strategy and repeat.

Keep the streak going

Miss a day? Start again the next morning. The habit is built by starting over without quitting.

Small daily actions create big results.

BLAMO Prospecting Rules

Use these rules as your daily standard. They keep your prospecting professional, consistent, and pressure-free.

- ☐ Introduce yourself as a professional, not just someone who sells cars.
- ☐ Focus on helping first and selling second.
- ☐ Be consistent—small daily actions create big results.
- ☐ Stay active in your community and online.
- ☐ Follow up promptly and professionally.
- ☐ Ask for referrals every time you earn a customer's trust.

Coach's Corner

Your dealership gives you a place to work. Your personal brand gives people a reason to ask for you by name. The most successful automotive sales professionals don't wait for traffic—they build a reputation that brings customers directly to them.

Close with Clarity. Not Pressure.

© Blamo Closing