

BLAMO CLOSING

Automotive sales leadership course

Blamo Closing Leadership Academy

Developing High-Performance Automotive
Sales Leaders

Lead with Purpose. Coach with Clarity. Win with Your Team.

$24.99 PRACTICAL LEADERSHIP TRAINING MANUAL

COURSE GUIDE

Table of Contents

Chapter 1 – The Modern Sales Leader

Leadership vs. Management

Setting the Example

Building Trust

Creating a Winning Culture

The Blamo Leadership Philosophy

Chapter 2 – Coaching Salespeople

The Role of a Coach

Daily Coaching Routine

Coaching Formula

Coaching Conversation Example

Coaching Worksheet

Chapter 3 – Desk Manager Communication

Why Communication Breaks Deals

Information Every Manager Needs

BLAMO Deal Summary

Manager Turnover Script

Chapter 4 – Daily Sales Meetings

Purpose

Every meeting should include:

Sample Agenda

Chapter 5 – Performance Accountability

What Gets Measured Gets Improved

Weekly Scorecard

Accountability Formula

Coaching Questions

Chapter 6 – Motivating the Team

Motivation Isn't a Speech — It's an Environment.

Recognition Ideas

Five Ways Leaders Motivate

Chapter 7 – Difficult Conversations

Conversation Framework

Chapter 8 – Building a Winning Culture

The Blamo Standards

Chapter 9 – Leadership Checklists

Chapter 10 – The Blamo Leadership Playbook

Leadership Principles

Leadership Self-Assessment

Final Thought

How to Use This Course

This manual is built for dealership leaders who want a practical operating rhythm: set the example, observe the work, coach clearly, and follow up. Read one chapter before a shift, use the worksheets on the floor, and return to the checklists until the behaviors become routine.

The standard is simple: protect the customer experience, develop professionals who consistently sell cars, and never confuse pressure with leadership.

Coaching Formula

Observe	Praise	Correct	Demonstrate	Practice	Follow Up
---------	--------	---------	-------------	----------	-----------

☐ Chapter 1 – The Modern Sales Leader

- Leadership vs. Management
- Setting the Example
- Building Trust
- Creating a Winning Culture

☐ Chapter 2 – Coaching Salespeople

- The Role of a Coach
- Daily Coaching Routine
- Coaching Formula
- Coaching Conversation Example
- Coaching Worksheet

☐ Chapter 3 – Desk Manager Communication

- Why Communication Breaks Deals
- Information Every Manager Needs
- BLAMO Deal Summary
- Manager Turnover Script

☐ Chapter 4 – Daily Sales Meetings

- Purpose
- Every meeting should include (Wins / Metrics / Training Topic / Role Play / Motivation)
- Sample Agenda

☐ Chapter 5 – Performance Accountability

- What Gets Measured Gets Improved
- Weekly Scorecard
- Accountability Formula
- Coaching Questions

☐ Chapter 6 – Motivating the Team

- Motivation Isn't a Speech — It's an Environment
- People Stay Where They Feel
- Recognition Ideas
- Five Ways Leaders Motivate

☐ Chapter 7 – Difficult Conversations

- Topics
- Conversation Framework

☐ Chapter 8 – Building a Winning Culture

- The Blamo Standards
 - Chapter 9 – Leadership Checklists
- Opening / Mid-Day / Closing Checklists
 - Chapter 10 – The Blamo Leadership Playbook
- Leadership Principles
- Leadership Self-Assessment
- Final Thought

Chapter 1 - The Modern Sales Leader

A field chapter for leaders who want the team to improve through clear standards, honest conversations and repeated practice.

Leadership vs. Management

Management keeps the operation moving: schedules, numbers, process and follow-through. Leadership develops the people who carry those processes out. A manager asks whether the report is complete; a leader asks whether the salesperson understands what to do next and has been coached to do it well. You need both, but people do not become professionals by being managed from a spreadsheet. On the floor, lead by making the standard visible. Protect the customer experience while holding the team to clear expectations. When a number is off, look first for the behavior behind it, then coach the behavior.

Setting the Example

Leaders set the standard through their own behavior. Be on time, prepared and present where customers and salespeople need you. Use the same honest language you expect from the team; do not pressure a customer or ask a salesperson to hide an uncomfortable fact. Your example should include calm under pressure. A busy showroom is not permission to become sharp, dismissive or chaotic. Demonstrate the pace, listening and follow-through that makes a professional customer experience repeatable.

Leaders set the standard through their own behavior.

Building Trust

Trust is the foundation of every leader-team relationship. Keep commitments, explain decisions and correct privately. If you do not know an answer, say so and find it. If a customer concern is valid, protect the customer rather than protecting a short-term number. Trust also means consistency. The standard cannot change because someone is a favorite or because the day is busy. People can accept a hard conversation when they know it will be fair, specific and followed by help.

Trust is the foundation of every leader-team relationship.

Creating a Winning Culture

Culture is built daily, by what leaders repeat and reward. Repeat the behaviors that create professionals: preparation, questions, clean handoffs, honest updates, thoughtful follow-up and respect for every customer. Reward improvement and teamwork, not only the final sold-unit count. A winning culture has room for accountability. Do not let “that is just how sales is” excuse pressure selling, poor notes or missed commitments. Make the standard clear, coach it in the moment and recognize the person who chooses the right behavior when nobody is watching.

Culture is built daily, by what leaders repeat and reward.

The Blamo Leadership Philosophy

Lead with Purpose. Coach with Clarity. Win with Your Team. Purpose means the customer experience and the development of people guide the day. Clarity means expectations, feedback and next steps are specific. Winning with your team means success is built through shared preparation, honest communication and consistent practice.

Lead with Purpose. Coach with Clarity. Win with Your Team.

Chapter 2 - Coaching Salespeople

A field chapter for leaders who want the team to improve through clear standards, honest conversations and repeated practice.

The Role of a Coach

Your job isn't to sell cars.

Your job is to build professionals who consistently sell cars.

Daily Coaching Routine

Morning

- ☐ Review yesterday's performance
- ☐ Set daily goals
- ☐ Conduct a motivational huddle

Throughout the Day

- ☐ Observe customer interactions
- ☐ Coach in real time
- ☐ Recognize positive behaviors

End of Day

- ☐ Review successes
- ☐ Discuss opportunities
- ☐ Set tomorrow's priorities

Coaching Formula

Coaching Formula

Observe	Praise	Correct	Demonstrate	Practice	Follow Up
---------	--------	---------	-------------	----------	-----------

Observe → Praise → Correct → Demonstrate → Practice → Follow Up

Coaching Conversation Example

Instead of saying:
"You talked too much."
Say:
"I noticed the customer stopped asking questions after your presentation. What do you think caused that?"

Coaching creates ownership.

Criticism creates resistance.

Coaching Worksheet

- ☐ Salesperson:

- ☐ Strengths
- ☐ Improvement Areas
- ☐ Goals
- ☐ Action Plan
- ☐ Manager Follow-Up Date

Chapter 3 - Desk Manager Communication

A field chapter for leaders who want the team to improve through clear standards, honest conversations and repeated practice.

Why Communication Breaks Deals

Poor communication causes:

- ☐ Lost trust
- ☐ Slow deals
- ☐ Customer frustration
- ☐ Reduced gross
- ☐ Walkouts

Information Every Manager Needs

- ☐ Customer Motivation
- ☐ Trade Status
- ☐ Budget
- ☐ Decision Makers
- ☐ Timeline
- ☐ Objections
- ☐ Buying Signals

BLAMO Deal Summary

- ☐ Customer:
- ☐ Vehicle:
- ☐ Trade:
- ☐ Payment Goal:
- ☐ Main Objection:
- ☐ Closing Strategy:
- ☐ Next Step:

Manager Turnover Script

"Mr. Johnson, I appreciate the opportunity you've given us today. I'd like to introduce my sales manager. Their role is simply to make sure we've answered every question and explored every available option."

Chapter 4 - Daily Sales Meetings

A field chapter for leaders who want the team to improve through clear standards, honest conversations and repeated practice.

Purpose

Sales meetings should inspire—not bore.

Goal: 15–20 minutes.

Every meeting should include:

Wins — Celebrate yesterday.

Metrics

- ☐ Appointments
- ☐ Shows
- ☐ Test Drives
- ☐ Sold Units
- ☐ Closing Ratio

Training Topic — 5–10 minute lesson.

Examples:

- ☐ Objection Handling
- ☐ Walk-Around Skills
- ☐ Appointment Setting
- ☐ Trial Closes

Role Play — Practice one real-world scenario.

Motivation — End with:

- ☐ Goals
- ☐ Recognition
- ☐ Challenge

Sample Agenda

- ☐ 8:30 Welcome
- ☐ 8:32 Wins
- ☐ 8:36 Numbers
- ☐ 8:40 Training
- ☐ 8:50 Role Play
- ☐ 8:58 Daily Challenge
- ☐ 9:00 Floor Open

Chapter 5 - Performance Accountability

A field chapter for leaders who want the team to improve through clear standards, honest conversations and repeated practice.

What Gets Measured Gets Improved

Track:

- ☐ Appointments Set
- ☐ Appointments Shown
- ☐ Test Drives
- ☐ Vehicles Sold
- ☐ Closing Percentage
- ☐ Gross Profit
- ☐ Follow-Up Calls
- ☐ Internet Leads
- ☐ CSI
- ☐ Reviews

Weekly Scorecard

Accountability Formula

Accountability Formula

Expectations	Measurement	Coaching	Improvement	Recognition
--------------	-------------	----------	-------------	-------------

Expectations → Measurement → Coaching → Improvement → Recognition

Coaching Questions

- ☐ What went well?
- ☐ What was your biggest challenge?
- ☐ What did you learn?
- ☐ What will you improve tomorrow?
- ☐ How can I help?

Chapter 6 - Motivating the Team

A field chapter for leaders who want the team to improve through clear standards, honest conversations and repeated practice.

Motivation Isn't a Speech — It's an Environment.

People Stay Where They Feel:

- ☐ Valued
- ☐ Respected
- ☐ Supported
- ☐ Recognized
- ☐ Growing
- ☐ Winning

Recognition Ideas

- ☐ Salesperson of the Week
- ☐ Most Improved
- ☐ Best CSI
- ☐ Best Walk-Around
- ☐ Top Appointment Setter
- ☐ Customer Service Award
- ☐ Blamo Closer Award

Five Ways Leaders Motivate

1. Recognition — Catch people doing things right.
2. Competition — Healthy contests.
3. Coaching — Daily improvement.
4. Growth — Training opportunities.
5. Vision — Help employees see a career—not just a job.

Chapter 7 - Difficult Conversations

A field chapter for leaders who want the team to improve through clear standards, honest conversations and repeated practice.

Topics:

- ☐ Poor Performance
- ☐ Attendance
- ☐ Negative Attitude
- ☐ Dress Code
- ☐ Policy Violations
- ☐ Customer Complaints

Conversation Framework

Conversation Framework

Situation	Behavior	Impact	Solution	Commitment	Follow-Up
-----------	----------	--------	----------	------------	-----------

Situation → Behavior → Impact → Solution → Commitment → Follow-Up

Chapter 8 - Building a Winning Culture

A field chapter for leaders who want the team to improve through clear standards, honest conversations and repeated practice.

Culture isn't posters on the wall.

Culture is repeated behavior.

The Blamo Standards

- ☐ Respect Everyone
- ☐ No Pressure Selling
- ☐ Honest Communication
- ☐ Constant Learning
- ☐ Accountability
- ☐ Teamwork
- ☐ Professional Appearance
- ☐ Customer First

Chapter 9 - Leadership Checklists

A field chapter for leaders who want the team to improve through clear standards, honest conversations and repeated practice.

Opening Checklist

- ☐ Morning Huddle
- ☐ Goals Posted
- ☐ CRM Reviewed
- ☐ Appointments Assigned
- ☐ Team Motivated

Mid-Day Checklist

- ☐ Walk Floor
- ☐ Coach Salespeople
- ☐ Review Traffic
- ☐ Review Appointments
- ☐ Recognize Success

Closing Checklist

- ☐ Pending Deals
- ☐ Tomorrow's Appointments
- ☐ Unsold Follow-Up
- ☐ Salesperson Coaching
- ☐ Celebrate Wins

Chapter 10 - The Blamo Leadership Playbook

A field chapter for leaders who want the team to improve through clear standards, honest conversations and repeated practice.

Leadership Principles

- ☐ Lead by Example
- ☐ Coach More Than You Correct
- ☐ Create Confidence
- ☐ Develop Professionals
- ☐ Protect the Customer Experience
- ☐ Never Stop Training

Leadership Self-Assessment

Rate yourself (1-5):

- ☐ Communication
- ☐ Coaching
- ☐ Consistency
- ☐ Recognition
- ☐ Conflict Resolution
- ☐ Motivation
- ☐ Team Development
- ☐ Decision Making

Final Thought

Great dealerships aren't built by great salespeople alone. They're built by leaders who consistently develop great salespeople.

Field Lab 1: Observe the Floor

Choose one customer interaction. Record the salesperson's opening, questions, listening ratio and next step. Do not interrupt unless the customer experience is at risk. Debrief with one specific praise and one coaching question.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 2: Coach in the Moment

Use Observe → Praise → Correct → Demonstrate → Practice → Follow Up with one salesperson today. Write the behavior you saw, the exact line you used, and the follow-up time.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 3: Trust Audit

List three commitments you made this week. Mark each kept, delayed or missed. For every delayed commitment, write the honest update you owe the salesperson or customer.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 4: Customer Experience Check

Walk the showroom as a customer would. Check greeting, wait time, handoff language, vehicle readiness and explanation of next steps. Pick one friction point to remove before tomorrow.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 5: Deal Summary Drill

Take a live or recent deal and complete Customer, Vehicle, Trade, Payment Goal, Main Objection, Closing Strategy and Next Step. Identify the missing fact before the turnover.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 6: Meeting Rehearsal

Plan a 15–20 minute meeting. Select one metric, one training topic and one role-play. Write the daily challenge so it can be observed, not merely encouraged.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 7: Scorecard Review

Compare one salesperson’s goal and actual numbers. Ask What went well? What was your biggest challenge? What did you learn? What will you improve tomorrow? How can I help?

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 8: Recognition Plan

Choose one recognition idea from this course. Name the behavior it recognizes and deliver it publicly only if the person is comfortable; otherwise recognize privately and specifically.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 9: Difficult Conversation Prep

Before a difficult conversation, write the Situation, Behavior and Impact in neutral language. Then define the Solution, Commitment and Follow-Up date.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 10: Standards in Action

Choose one Blamo Standard. Write what it sounds like on a phone call, looks like on the floor and requires during a manager handoff.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 11: Opening Rhythm

Use the Opening Checklist before the floor opens. Note what was complete, what was missing and who owns the next action.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 12: Mid-Day Reset

Use the Mid-Day Checklist at the busiest point of the day. Coach one behavior, review appointments and recognize one success before returning to traffic.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 13: Closing Rhythm

Use the Closing Checklist. For each pending deal, state the customer's next step and the salesperson's follow-up owner. Celebrate one real win.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 14: Lead by Example

Identify one behavior you ask from the team that you did not model today. Model it on the next shift and invite the team to notice the standard.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 15: Development Plan

Choose one team member. Write a 30-day development focus, the practice opportunity, the measure and the weekly follow-up date.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Lab 16: Weekly Leadership Review

Review your communication, coaching, consistency, recognition, conflict resolution, motivation, team development and decision making. Pick one score to improve through a dated action.

Write your notes below. Use observable examples and finish with a next action.

Field Worksheets

Use these pages in one-on-ones and weekly reviews. Write observable behaviors, not labels.

Coaching Worksheet

Complete this page with specific examples. Review it with the salesperson or leadership partner, then date the next action.

Salesperson:

Strengths:

Improvement Areas:

Goals:

Action Plan:

Manager Follow-Up Date:

BLAMO Deal Summary

Complete this page with specific examples. Review it with the salesperson or leadership partner, then date the next action.

Customer:

Vehicle:

Trade:

Payment Goal:

Main Objection:

Closing Strategy:

Next Step:

Weekly Scorecard

Complete this page with specific examples. Review it with the salesperson or leadership partner, then date the next action.

KPI Goal Actual

Sold Units

Test Drives

Appointments

Follow-Ups

Reviews

Leadership Self-Assessment

Complete this page with specific examples. Review it with the salesperson or leadership partner, then date the next action.

Communication

Coaching

Consistency

Recognition

Conflict Resolution

Motivation

Team Development

Decision Making

Leadership Self-Assessment

Rate yourself (1-5):

- ☐ Communication 1 2 3 4 5 Notes: _____
- ☐ Coaching 1 2 3 4 5 Notes: _____
- ☐ Consistency 1 2 3 4 5 Notes: _____
- ☐ Recognition 1 2 3 4 5 Notes: _____
- ☐ Conflict Resolution 1 2 3 4 5 Notes: _____
- ☐ Motivation 1 2 3 4 5 Notes: _____
- ☐ Team Development 1 2 3 4 5 Notes: _____
- ☐ Decision Making 1 2 3 4 5 Notes: _____

Choose one strength to keep visible and one behavior to practice this week. A self-assessment is useful only when it becomes a next action with a follow-up date.

Final Thought

Great dealerships aren't built by great salespeople alone. They're built by leaders who consistently develop great salespeople.

Blamo Closing Leadership Academy